BACK STREET, --

AA, Th 20.6.1822, 1a — For sale. Piece of ground and houses in Back Street, lately belonging to Robert Wyllie, presently possessed by William McGaan, weaver, and others.

AA, Th 4.6.1885 — On Friday last the new bonded warehouse of Messrs William Wallace & Co in Back Street was opened. The new premises which consist of three storeys are commodious ... [and] will be used as a blending and bottling warehouse, while the other establishment of the firm, in East George Street, continues to be made use of for storage purposes. The original warehouse of Messrs Wallace, situated behind their shop in Portland Street, was sanctioned 25 years ago, and was the first excise general duty free store in any inland town in Scotland. The building in East George Street which was erected 5 years ago has proved inadequate to meet the requirements of a growing trade. Contractors include Mr Muir, mason work.

GH 30.3.1974	Formally opened today. Unusual and possibly unique shopping development, developed by the traders themselves, each owning a unit in the block. In 1968 a CDA was declared in Kilmarnock town centre: a chemist, Alex Cockburn, began to explore the possibility of a number of traders in the town coming together to form a consortium to buy land and build their own premises in a secondary trading area, to avoid the high assessments likely to be met in more central parts. The TC were encouraging, and the Fore Street area decided upon. A meeting of 24 traders in June 1969 produced 12 who agreed to pay towards the commissioning of architects, &c. Work began on site in July 1972, and was completed by Christmas 1973.

ASH, Sa 28.6.1873, 3ab — Lengthy sketch of the Picture Gallery. "... a very quiet unobtrusive looking building. It has a little peculiarity about it evident to any one. That peculiarity is, it has no windows. Only a moderately sized bit of blank wall meets your eye; and if you look higher up you will see that it has large sky-lights. ... the house proper was, we think, the property of his father, and the blank wall section was built by ... James Tannock. ... it was built as a picture gallery ... and so looks a little odd externally".

AA, Th 12.11.1891 — Has just been overhauled and adapted as offices for the Parochial Board. Building Committee of the Board assisted by Mr Thomas Smellie, architect.

KS, 27.4.1901; AA, Th 2.5.1901 — Reconstruction and extended premises of the Parish Council in Grange Street formally opened last Thursday.
