LINKS ROAD, ---, PRESTWICK GOLF CLUB

James E Shaw, "History of Prestwick Golf Club" reviewed in AP 20.1.1939.

AP, F 14.7.1916, 2d (Article on Charlie Hunter)

Those who played in the 1840s included Lord Eglinton, Colonel Gillan of Wallace-house, Colonel fairlie of Coodham and Colonel Hamilton of Cairnhill

Hewat — Founded c.1850 by Colonel Fairlie of Coodham and Rev Dr Pollock of Glasgow. At first only one green, then became 12 hole course, characterised by very large bunkers and undulating sand dunes.

KS, Sa 15.7.1871, 2e — Ladies' Golf Course inaugurated on Monday. It has 6 holes 'in the park on the north side of the club house'.

AP, F 14.7.1916, 2d (as above) — Course was 12 holes until 1882, when it was extended by Charlie Hunter.

The Field, lxi, 1568, Sa 13.1.1883, 57, "Prestwick Links" by Driving Cleek

30 years since Fairlie of Coodham, late Lord Eglinton, Hamilton of Cairnhill, late Col Campbell of Craigie and others began to play. First improvement was a little round lunch-house, still standing. Old Tom Morris was 13 years at Prestwick, and had a workshop in village, which served as clubhouse. Present handsome clubhouse "added and re-added to as necessity required": 1882-83 season has seen extension of course - now no cross-overs. Hon Secretary for past 15 years, Mr Hart.

ASH 20.9.1901 [1866-1867] — Jubilee. Club formed in 1851: first meeting held 2.7.1851 in Red Lion. In 1866 a clubhouse was proposed and started, finished in 1867 at a cost of £750.

AA 3.8.1882 — The extended links were first used Saturday last, 29.7.1882. Additions to the clubhiuse are in progress.

Darley Hay — 1887, additions and alterations, Allan Stevenson.

Darley Hay — 1891, additions and alterations, Allan Stevenson.

AA 14.12.1893 — It has become necessary to enlarge the present Prestwick Clubhouse .. and extensive additions and alterations are presently in progress to supply the needed accommodation. The plans have been prepared by Messrs Morris & Hunter and are well suited to meet the growing requirements of the club. The additions and alterations comprise a new general room, new committee room, new bar, additional boxrooms and entrance halls and porch. The general room is a handsome apartment, 36'6" y 25'6" with two large bay windows in afddition: the main bay measures about 22' across inside and gives a commanding view northwards over the whole links; the second and smaller looks westward towards the 14th hole. The new committee room occupies the north-east corner of the extension, overlooking the links and the entrance from the station. It is about 19' by 14'. The links entrance and porch occupy a central position in the north front between the general and committee rooms. The second entrance is behind the Committee Rooms, close to Charlie Hunter's shop, and directly facing the footpath from the station.

ACC Planning, A7860 — October 1954. Vehicular access.
