NEW STREET, --, CINEMA DE LUXE

Journal of Decorative Art, February 1917, p.51

Built 1916. Decorators: A Martin & Son, Glasgow. "One of the most elegant and artistic halls in Scottish cinema-land". Coved ceiling in soft cream with enriched mouldings (in old gold slightly hatched in bronze) forming panels bound with blue-grey lines. Frieze slightly darker than ceiling with moulding in delicate fawns. Trellised back-ground and festoons of roses and panels representing Tragedy, Music, Art and Folk.

Walls - a soft rose colour. Side balconies painted French grey and turquoise blue. Proscenium relieved in rose, green and grey, slightly hatched in bronze - on either side panels (Art and Music) in colour and gold outline. Balcony staircase has woodwork panelled in black background and richly coloured designs and grey tiles ("the completed effect being distinctly pleasing and quaint") - walls lilac, panelled in white and with rose design in powdered effect. Dado in sharp blue. Vestibule and lower hall - grey ceilings: blue grey walls with stencilled panelled effect in black and silver; woodwork dark mahogany.
