TURNBERRY VILLAGE

ASH, Sa 13.5.1876, 4c — A correspondent writes to the London Scottish Journal, "I have often wondered that the Ailsa family have not called into existence a northern Brighton on the Carrick Shore. There is no better sea-bathing ground in the Empire. At Turnberry and at the Maidens particularly there is glorious ground for all the healthful revelries and enjoyments of sea-bathing. The best of salt water, the most healthful of breezes and maginficent scenery, and the vicinity of the classic ground of Scotland 'where Bruce once ruled the martial ranks/ And shook his Carrick spear' are here".
