CEMETERY

BI 18/206	May 1907	Extension. Erection of Lodge, Mortuary, &c. Plans of Pearson and Ronaldson, Kilmarnock.

KAIMSHILL SANATORIUM

Mackenzie, 28		Patients were sent to Kaimshill Sanatorium in cases of tuberculosis (or suspected tuberculosis). Often patients could spend a year or more resting in institutions like this to give their bodies the chance to fight the disease. Kaimshill Sanatorium was situated along the Riccarton Road, opposite Kaimshill Cemetery. In 1959 the sanatorium, which had earlier been a smallpox hospital, became Torrance House Convalescent Home. The convalescent home itself was closed in 1962 and the building is now a nursing home.
n.r, per Norman Gee, EAC, 11/2011		Opened as Smallpox Hospital, (Hurlford Smallpox Hospital), 1874. Became a Children's Sanatorium, and was renamed Torrance House in 1959. Purpose changed again in 1962.
