HURLFORD

Johnston — Apparently originally Whirl-ford.

ASH 13.10.1860 — "Ayrshire - Village Sketches. no.1: Hurlford". Not terribly useful.

Wilson, M, "The Ayrshire Hermit", 1875:
Earliest houses in Hurlford include Parkhouse, on the S side of Galston Road, dated 1777. Built by great grandfather of John Howie of the Fireclay Works. Previous to 1777 the break-up of the Marchmont estates created a number of small proprietors in H: James Adam, Old Hurlford; John Bunten, Townhead; -- Howie, Newhouse.

KWP 23.5.1857 — John Galloway, coal-master, has erected "12 well-planned, neat and commodious brick cottages", west of the village. Howie is building to the east.
